84 MASON MEN CALLED IN EARLY OCTOBER QUOTA

Largest Single Draft Ever Made In the State of Kentucky Was Announced Sunday Night by Major Henry Rhodes.

The largest single call ever made by Major Henry Rhodes, Chief of the Selective Service Department in the State of Kentucky came Sunday evening when he called on local draft boards throughout the state for 7,823
white men to be sent to Camp Sevier, Greenville, South Carolina, between October 7 and October 12.

In this big call Mason county is called upon to furnish 84 men and this will necessitate the use of a large number of the young men who registered and were classified only a few months ago and it may be necessary to call on those registering in the last registration to fill out the quota.

Adjunct committees are given the following appointments: Dracken
23, Fleming 61, Lewis 82, Robertson
26.

In a bulletin to the local boards announcing this call, Major Rhodes
said:

"In filling this call which is announced herein the local boards of the State of Kentucky are placed in a position where the result of the successful enrollment of this large increment of men will determine every weak point in the machinery of the Selective Service organization in the State. You are today swamped with work on account of the late registration which was carried out very successfully, and with the mailing out of the Questionnaires to those men who registered and who were between the ages of 19 and 37. My local boards have never yet failed on any task, no matter how great it may have been,
and I look to you today with confidence that, although you have more work today than ever before, this large call which is the largest single call ever announced by this office will be filled without a deficiency on the part of any local board."

Today was Squire Fred Dresel's regular monthly court day and he was kept busy all day at his office in the Fifth Ward.

THREE-YEAR-OLD CHILD DIES SUDDENLY IN STORE

Three Year Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fry, of Covendale,
Dies in Calvin Creek Store—
Had Suffered From Heart Trouble.

Irene, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fry, of Cove-dale, Lewis county, died very suddenly in the Calvin Fry store on Calvin Creek Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fry and their little daughter had left their home at Cove-dale in their automobile on their way to visit a friend and before they had reached their destination, the little girl asked that her parents purchase her some cakes at the next store. The automobile was stopped and the cakes purchased. Shortly after the little girl had tasted of the cakes she became violently ill and was carried into the store.

Physicians were called but in a very few minutes and before their arrival the little girl had died.

It was at first thought the little girl had been poisoned but it was later learned that she had been subject to spells with her heart and it was fully established that this was the cause of her death and the eating of the cakes
had nothing to do with it.

ALLIES CONTINUE POUNDING LINES IN ALL SECTORS

Haig Strikes For Donal as French and British Take Villages Near St.
Quentin—Yanks Take Prisoners.

With the American Army in France,
September 23—American troops raided the enemy lines in the neighborhood of Hamont village, in the center of the new line across the St. Mihiel salient, capturing 25 prisoners.
One unit attacked Hamont itself. It had sharp fighting in the village, taking 20 prisoners and killing and wounding some 40 more Germans. The prisoners were members of a Jaeger battalion, formerly stationed at Metz.
American patrols have discovered enemy trenches and a machine gun emplacement south of Dommarin, in the Kriemhild line. The enemy continues work all along this front.

London, September 23 — British troops, striking toward Donal, northern keypoint of the new Hindenburg line, progressed on a front of about three quarters of a mile east of Gavrelle—five and a half miles northeast of Arras—last night, Field Marshal
Haig announced today.

The Germans temporarily penetrated the British lines near Herthaucourt
—four miles northwest of St. Quentin
—early in the evening, but were driven out by a counter-attack.

The British also advanced between Vendhuile and Villers Gisleul, taking a number of strong points and some prisoners.

London, September 23 — Allied troops in Macedonia have cut the railway from Gradska to Philip, according to the Serbian official communique received here today.

The L'askop-Salonika Railway also has been cut, thus stopping all supplies to the Bulgarians on the whole 65-mile front, from Philip eastward
to the Lake Doiran region.

Paris, September 23—French troops yesterday and last night made notable progress in their drive for the enclav-ement of St. Quentin. They pushed in far on the south and captured the village and fort of Venduill, close to the Oise, nine miles southeast of St. Quentin, today's war office announcement shows. From Venduill
the French pushed on to the river.
North of Le Montaine they penetrated
the wood in the direction of Hina-court.

ness extending over several months.
Mrs. Schwartz suffered from a fall last winter and had been ill since that time. She was born in Germany on April 26, 1845 but the greater part of her life had been spent in Maysville.

She is survived by two daughters,
Mrs. M. G. Blerley and Miss Emma Schwartz, and two sons, Mr. Herman Schwartz, of this city, and Mr. Edward Schwartz, of Catlettsburg.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the home with services by Dr. John Barbour, of the First Presbyterian Church and burial will be in the Maysville cemetery.

HERE'S HONEST WOMAN

Manager Russell of the Washington
Theater Saturday received a letter from a Bracken county woman in which she inclosed a Post Office Money Order for 85 cents. She explained in her letter that she and a party from Bracken county came to Maysville to attend the big feature picture, "The Hearts of the World" and that five of the party were admitted to the theater on four tickets. This is the first time the management of the local theater has found a party willing to admit this fact, pay for the admission and disclose their name.

day morning to hear Bishop P. V. W.

visit to Maysville since he had been made a Bishop.

Mr. Clay Smith, of Hammond, Ind.,

a very pleasant visit with his parents, Connellman and Mrs. William Smith, of Fourth street. Mr. Smith was accompanied as far as Cincinnati by

ITALIAN ALLIES TO BE HONORED ON COLUMBUS DAY

Mayor Russell Appoints Committee to Arrange For Great Celebration
October 12th.

Mayor Russell is in receipt of a communication from Douglas L. Dunbar, Secretary of the Committee on National Tribute to Italians requesting the co-operation of the citizens of the city in celebrating Columbus Day
October 12th in honor of our Italian Allies.

Mr. Dunbar in his communication says: "Aside from the sympathetic relations which exist between Italy and America as faithful allies in the great struggle against the brutal Ton-ton domination, our people have a special interest in cultivating friendship with 'The Crowned Republic,' as Italy has been called. Our large Italian population can be impressed by American ideas through our generous appreciation of the great part their country is taking in the war. We are fighting with Italy upon her soil but we owe it also to Italy to give her at this critical moment, when German intrigue is still at work, both there and here, the valuable support of our admiration and good-will."

"In view of the fact, the joint Committee of the Italian American Society and of the Italian War Relief Fund of America are hoping that the 12th of October (Columbus Day) will be made the occasion of a nation-wide tribute to Italy."

"We venture to suggest to your Honorable the immediate formation of a representative local committee of leading citizens, to arrange a mass meeting and other ceremonies. Obviously, it would be well to invite the co-operation of Italian citizens."

"May we suggest that by reason of the scarcity of the flags of Italy it would be well to lay emphasis simply on her colors of red, white and green.
The use of the Italian hymns — the Royal March, the Garibaldi Hymn and the Hymn of Mameli ('Brothers of Italy') is recommended. The first is preeminently the national anthem, to which Italians rise."

Acting upon the suggestion that a committee of representative citizens
be appointed to plan this meeting,
Mayor Russell has appointed the following men on the committee:
J. B. Russell, J. H. Wood, J.
N. Kehoe, B. Y. Chambers, F. L. Hen-
drixson, J. M. Hunt, W. D. Cochran,
James Collins, S. F. Reed and George
A. Dodson.

As this celebration falls on a Saturday, it is likely that the committee will arrange a public mass meeting in the Opera House with some national speaker and the Community Chorus
on the program at the afternoon meeting. The committee will meet in the next few days and formulate the plans for the celebration.

MASON COUNTY MAN DIES FROM WOUNDS RECEIVED IN BATTLE

Grover Frederick, Mayslick Man, Is Reported Dead From Wounds Received in Action Latter Part of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frederick, of the Mayslick neighborhood, have just received a telegram from the War Department announcing that their son, Grover C. Frederick, of the American Expeditionary Forces, had died in France. The telegram announces that young Frederick was killed in action on July 22 but the family thinks this is an error in transmission as they have received letters from the young man since that date.

The family had previously been notified that their son had been wounded in action on July 22 and afterward
they received letters from him while in a base hospital. He informed them that he had been wounded in the right leg and later they were informed that the wound was of such a nature as to require the amputation of the limb.
It is now supposed that he died from the amputation.

Young Frederick was in one of the first squads of selectives leaving Mason county. He was a splendid young man liked by all who knew him and has many friends in all parts of the county who are grieved to learn of his death.

This is the second man from the Mayslick neighborhood to give his life for the cause of Democracy, the first man in the county making the supreme sacrifice having come from that precinct.

WITHOUT GLORY

It will not be recorded in history that we in our small corner did as the food administration asked us to do. Our part in this war may seem a task that grows wearisome. "There is no glory in it," perhaps some say.

But are we right? The winning of the war is a task in which we all must share, if we are finally to win. It is like a mosaic, composed of many very small parts which form a large pattern. The lack of any one of those parts will spoil the design.

The war cannot be won without food. It cannot be won unless millions of individuals do their part in conserving food.

Is there not glory in knowing that we have shared in such an undertaking? Is there not glory in knowing that we have contributed even a little to so splendid a success?

Supposing we should have to face in later years the fact that we refused to help. Imagine our own dismay, regret and shame that we have had no share at all in the making of victory.

When a couple love at first sight they imagine the rest of the world is near-sighted.

We are learning much, and shall learn much more in the future, from Great Britain's handling of her problems in economic and commercial readjustment since the beginning of the war.

A recent report shows vividly how far some of these processes have gone and indicates to some extent how British business reached to the new conditions.

England today "controls" more than 5,000 industrial plants. This control does not affect the management, but only profit and labor. All profit of such companies in excess of 20 per cent, beyond the average net earnings of the two financial years next before the war are to be paid to the Government Exchequer.

"The Government of Great Britain," says the report, "decides today what may be exported and what may be imported, how much flour the miller shall extract from the wheat, what is to be manufactured, how much sugar may be used in icing on cakes, how much the individual shall pay for potatoes. The Government decides that it is an extravagance and a nuisance to the safety of the Empire for a customer to buy, or a storekeeper to sell, an ounce of chocolate that costs more than six cents, or any other sweetmeat that costs more than four cents an ounce. The candy manufacturers have been prohibited during 1917 from using for confectionary more than 50 per cent, of the amount of sugar used by them during 1915. Not a commodity, not an industry but has come under the control of an omniscient Government. The manufacturer carries on his ordinary business. The Government has given permission for the wool to be sold for private consumption. He buys a notebook. The Government has granted a license for the importation of the paper. He buys a pocket cigar lighter. The Government has collected a tax of twelve cents on it. Many things he cannot buy at all.

"Owners of uncontrolled establishments are not much freer, but are permitted to retain 40 per cent, of excess war profits, whereas owners of controlled establishments must hand over all but 20 per cent, to the Government.

"Automobile manufacturers have suffered very little for the reason that although they not not allowed to manufacture pleasure cars, they have devoted their equipment very largely to the making of trucks, engines for aeroplanes and to other essential work.

"Because of control of industries through prohibition of employment of certain classes, restriction of use of raw materials, priority and other measures, business in Great Britain has found it necessary to intensify its selling as well as its manufacturing. Many concerns have found themselves within the scope of the government control prohibiting employment of males between the ages of 18 and 61. Since this restriction applied to selling as well as to manufacturing, some other means were necessary to maintain distribution. For this and other reasons advertising in many lines has been forced to take the place of personal selling."

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work.

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

EVERYONE WORKS OVER IN FRANCE

Spirit of Cooperation Is Excellent, Declares Lieut. Paul Berthier, of French Ordnance Engineers.

Everyone works and there is a fine spirit of cooperation among the people of France, according to Lieut. Paul Berthier and other officers of the mission of French ordnance engineers in America, where they are engaged in important work for the French Government.

Men, women, and children are all gladly doing their part to free the land from the invader, and although long hours are the rule, there is no complaint, for everyone realizes that the task must be accomplished and that only by supreme exertions will it be possible.

In the great rush of the German invasion, back in 1914, France, fearing for her very life, summoned every man to arms. This was a mistake, for munitions factories were denuded of their skilled workmen and many of them gave their lives in stemming Von Kluck's sweep toward Paris.

When the realization came that the munitions factories were hampered and that their men could serve better there than in the army, a problem was presented. For these men were already in the army, and no one was left outside except the men past 48 years of age, those physically unfit, and a few great specialists. Even the managers of the shops were in the fighting line.

The "work or fight" rule at once, therefore, became a reality, for men were sent back from the army to the factories only so long as they could serve better there than in the ranks. If their work proved unsatisfactory, they were promptly returned to their places in the battle line.

France has now found a reservoir of unskilled labor among the German prisoners. They are used for heavy work, and Chinese and Senegalese workers have been imported for supplying other labor needs. Women have shown remarkable adaptability in the skilled trades, and do some really remarkable work in the munitions factories, particularly on shells.

The supply of male skilled labor in military age, however, can only be increased by request to the ministry of munitions for the services of men at the front. In many factories wounded soldiers have been employed advantageously on certain work. In practice the rule is that men are not returned to munitions factories unless they have passed their thirty-fifth birthday or have served two full years in the army.

"It is not often necessary to send men back from the factories," says Lieut. Berthier. "The war is a fact to every man and woman in France. We shall have to stop and think what we shall do when the war is ended."

"Everyone works for the war. Think what it means that we have made guns to enable America to enter the fighting line earlier than she could have done! Think of the land, the factories, the coal mines, and, most of all, the men we have lost. It is only because everyone in France works hard that we can have guns and munitions for our allies and our own armies. Although I understand that other types of 75's are manufactured in England and America, I know that at Bourges all the French 75's—guns that have become famous—are made for the French and American Armies. Think what a plant it is that can produce in quantity for several nations!"

This tremendous output, according to Lieut. Berthier, is only possible through keeping the factories going 24 hours a day and 7 days in the week.

Be very careful how you let remarks fall—they may hurt a friend.

MILK

"Whole milk is the perfect ration—the natural food. It is not merely a drink—it is a food. You eat milk. It nourishes the body, rebuilds and repairs the worn tissues. Most people eat too much. They overload their stomachs. Dairy products are easily assimilated. They give you a higher rate of good value, without taxing the stomach. The family whose meals are largely composed of dairy products are seldom troubled with digestive disorders.

"The food value of a quart of milk is the equivalent of three-fourths of a pound of beef, two pounds of chicken, or eight eggs. Compare costs—milk wins.—Dr. E. V. The Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of the following communication from the Cincinnati District Freight Traffic Committee of the U. S. R. R. Administration:

Mr. R. U. Walton Moore, Assistant General Counsel of the U. S. Railroad Administration, Washington, D. C., has addressed the following communication to the various General and District Freight Traffic Committees:

"Complaints against the Director General with reference to the advanced rates are now being served on me. For instance, I have recently sent you a complaint filed by the Public Service Commission of Washington and a complaint filed by the Chamber of Commerce of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, which is as clear that parties are filing complaints without having made any effort to effect settlements by conference with the committees as appointed for that purpose. I am therefore, writing to urge that whenever there appears to be a possibility of disposing of a complaint by negotiation, you should endeavor to bring about that result. I know you will agree with me that formal proceedings, which involve labor, expense and frequently bad feeling, should be avoided when it can be done."

It is the desire of this Committee to arrange settlement of complaints whenever it can be reasonably done, in order to reduce the number of complaints filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission and Officers of the United States Railroad Administration at Washington.

It is further the desire of this Committee to render to the public the largest possible measure of service and satisfaction. As representative of the public on this committee, I wish to assure all shippers that meritorious complaints will receive full consideration and prompt action.

Complaints should be filed with the

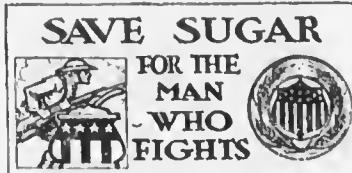

BOSTON WOMAN TRIES TO CLAIM KENTUCKY HONOR

Woman Who Established Small Settlement in Kentucky Claims Honor of Starline Moonlight Schools Here.

We see where Mrs. Alice Spencer Geddes Lloyd, who in 1916 located at Ivis, Knott county, Kentucky, and started a small settlement has had circulated through the press the statement that she is the founder of the moonlight schools. It may not matter so much that she challenges the claim of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, whom the world honors as the real founder of the moonlight schools, but it does matter to Kentucky that a Kentuckian born originated and gave the system to the world instead of a Boston woman who saw this state some five years after moonlight schools had been in operation, and after other states had adopted them. Also, it matters always that truth shall prevail. Mrs. Lloyd has a small center in Knott county where she is attempting to make a settlement. It is new. It is yet in the experimental stage. The press agent will not strengthen it by making absurd claims. Kentucky does not seek to claim that she founded Boston. It would be as true as for this woman from Boston to pose as the founder of moonlight schools.

BROWN COUNTY MAN EXPLAINS GREAT EIGHT-DAY DRIVE

Lieut. Victor Blehn, Relative of Maysville People Tells of Wonderful Fight "Over There."

The following from the Georgetown, (O.) News-Democrat will be of interest here and is one of the most interesting letters from France yet seen published.

Lieut. Blehn is a cousin of Mr. Daniel Shafer, of Shafer & Watkins.

The clipping follows:
A letter bearing date of August 1st, received at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blehn, from their son, Lieutenant Victor Blehn, of the Independent Light Seventh Infantry, brings interesting news of the fighting in France. Lieutenant Blehn has been in a hospital there, he having induced stomach trouble of some nature, which he thinks was due to drinking water from the streams, while engaged in the eight-day drive against the Germans from the Marne river.

The world is not so large that one does not run across somebody whom they know. He begins by stating that while standing in the doorway of a Y. M. C. A. building he saw Carl Hicks, another local boy, coming toward him. Carl went with the sixteen who went from Company M to the Rainbow Division. The News-Democrat last week told of the receipt of a letter by his mother telling of his being wounded. Lieutenant Victor Blehn states this consists of a broken ankle. Hicks' company had been in the trenches since last February, yet the fighting had not been as severe as the drive in which the Seventh Infantry engaged. "There are some of my men coming in each day," he writes. "The company is back on the firing line again, and there are only about sixty left, and there are only two officers in the battalion. It looks as though the old outfit is going to be a thing of the past, but maybe they will yet be relieved soon, so they can go back to reorganizing. I certainly hope so, for the Seventh Infantry has a wonderful history. It is one of the first organized regiments of the regular army."

Lieutenant Blehn's letter of July 30th tells more of the severity of the fighting. He states that he had lost forty-one pounds, but that this was due to exhaustion. "They tell me I slept for 22 hours without waking up when they brought me back, and during that time I was transferred from hospital truck, then to train and back to truck and hospital again. I knew nothing of it. Guess I was about all in."

"The 23rd Division is over and part of them used up already, as they were made into a replacement division. All except one regiment, and it was sent to Italy, more for moral effect on the Italians than anything else."

"When I was in command of my company I got 140 replacements from the 23rd, and it was certainly a shame to take those poor boys into action, as they simply didn't know how to play the game, but everyone of them was game and will make fine soldiers."

Under date of July 26th his letter tells of the fighting and how he came to be sent to a hospital. "I have been through it, since I last wrote you," he begins. "We went into the first line the morning the Boche started their big drive. They succeeded in getting a few troops across the Marne, but we drove them back and kept driving them for eight days and nights. We didn't take time out to sleep and didn't have much to eat and at one time I filled my canteen with water that was red from blood. We paid pretty dearly for the advance we made, but that is all in the game."

When my battalion was relieved and sent back in support we had four officers left. I am the only one left from Company C, and now I am not there, as I was sent to this base hospital on account of some kind of stomach trouble caused from drinking gassed water or eating spoiled canned meat or something. Anyway, I am all right again and want to get back, for they still have the devils on the run."

"I don't think I will get back to my company, as I have orders to report to a tank school as soon as I am released from the hospital, and that means I won't get into action again."

for at least three months, but I don't care very much, as I have gotten my share of Germans, and then some. I would like to tell you all that happened during those eight days and nights, but it would take too long and it isn't very pleasant to think about. But I will tell you all when this bloody thing is over, and that won't be very long, for the Yanks have had a taste of blood and they won't stop until the Kaiser shows his yellow streak.

"I have a German pistol that I am going to send to Florence the first chance I get. It is quite a souvenir, as I took it from the only German officer that I captured, but I certainly did get a bunch of prisoners, and about 80 per cent. of them were under 18 years of age."

NEARLY TIME FOR "KAMERAD" AGAIN

It has been several months since Germany made a peace offer. It is pretty nearly time for her to call "kamerad" again.

Don't take her too seriously when she does.

Some of our soldiers over there made the mistake.

They woke up in a hospital. For the "Kamerad" yelling Germans had their pockets full of bombs and turned them loose as soon as they were in tossing distance. Others had automobiles and used them when the Yanks got close enough for effective work.

The Yanks have learned their lesson.

We must profit by their experience. We mustn't be too willing to consider

For nine chances out of ten every one of them will carry a concealed oker. Somewhere the cloven hoof will be hidden.

Formerly it was no indemnities, no annexations, no territorial aggression. Pretty soon they'll be offering disarmament, agreeing to an international arbitration, and willing on the surface to do anything to prove their anxiety to be good.

The allies, and Americans in particular, must not fall for anything of the sort.

Too many lives have been sacrificed, too many billions squandered, for us to be satisfied with any halfway results, any doubtful measures, any diplomatic possibilities.

We must fight it out on the present line, whatever the cost.

We must get Kaiserism for good. We must wipe out the German menace for all time and do the job thoroughly.

TROPHY TRAIN TO BE HERE FOR FIVE HOURS

People of Maysville and Mason County Will Have a Longer Look at the War Trophy Train Than Most Cities.

The U. S. Army War Trophy Train which will be in Maysville on Friday, October 4th, left Cleveland, Ohio, last night at 11:30 p. m. on a four weeks' trip through Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia bearing some of the trophies of war claimed by our own soldier boys on the Western front.

Accompanying the train will be a squad of soldiers to act as guards and a number of prominent speakers who will speak in the interest of the Fourth Liberty Loan at the various cities at which the train stops.

The schedule as received here yesterday announces that the Trophy Train will arrive in Maysville over the L. & N. railroad on Friday, October 4th, at 6 p. m. and will be switched to the C. & O. line at this place. The train will remain on siding in this city from 6 p. m. until 11 p. m. when it will leave for Camden, Ohio, on the Pennsylvania line where it will exhibit on the following day.

The local committee is arranging a program of some sort to have in connection with the train's display and it is expected that hundreds of people will visit the train. This is the only stop along the C. & O. line of Ashland and the only stop on the L. & N. this side of Carlisle. Our neighbors from adjoining counties are invited and urged to come to Maysville Friday, October 4th, to view the war trophies and exhibits this great train carries.

DIMPLES WIN FOR GREEN STAFF

"She's pretty, she can act, and her dimples are great," the casting director at Universal City recently announced in describing Louise Lovely, the star.

And because of the last four words of the director's description Miss Lovely was chosen for the title role in "A Rich Man's Darling." Of course, if she wasn't pretty and couldn't act she wouldn't have been chosen. But if it wasn't for the dimples, some other Bluebird star might have been cast for the role.

When cast as modiste's assistant in "A Rich Man's Darling" which will be shown at the Pastime tonight Miss Lovely took a story that might have been distressing, with the vampire role predominating. Instead, she turned it into a bright, healthy comedy drama with numerous laughs and without dull moments.

RED CROSS OFFICERS OPPOSE CANTEN FOR C. & O. DEPOT

Executive Committee of the Mason County Red Cross Chapter Passes Resolutions Against Establishment of Canteen Here.

Some time ago the young ladies who have been active in Red Cross work here and who have been meeting troop trains at the local station proposed the establishment of a Red Cross Good Cheer Canteen at the local C. & O. station. The proposition seemed to meet with the support of the people and a neat sum was raised for its establishment.

The establishment of such a canteen at this point, however, does not seem to meet with the approval of the officials of the Mason County Red Cross Chapter, who have adopted the following resolutions by unanimous vote:

WHEREAS: It is not the policy or practice of the American Red Cross to organize railway canteen service in the smaller towns throughout the country where troop trains do not stop more than a few minutes; but, only at railway divisional points of importance where troop trains stop for a definite time; and,

WHEREAS: Ample canteen service has been established and is being satisfactorily operated at the important Railway Divisional Points within the unit of which Maysville is a part and the needs and wants of all troops are being fully provided for in this unit; and,

WHEREAS: To establish canteen service here would be beyond the policy of the Red Cross Organization, and in effect a duplication of work and add greatly to the expense of the local chapter; and,

WHEREAS: If this work should be undertaken it must be performed on a strictly military basis, thereby requiring the attention of from ten to fifteen of our most competent ladies, whose services are greatly needed in other kinds of important work; and,

WHEREAS: The war work and government calls for money that the people of Mason county will be compelled to meet within the next twelve months will probably amount to two million dollars or more; and,

WHEREAS: The Mason County Chapter has constantly held itself ready to respond to all calls made upon it by troop train commanders, and has each time promptly met their requests, and intends to continue this policy; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED: That it is the unanimous opinion of this Committee that this community is fully meeting its war obligations and that there is no present necessity for the establishment of railway canteen service at Maysville.

W. W. BALL, Secretary.

CHANGES IN METHOD OF GRADING WORK

Superintendent Cuddeger Gives Parents Information on Changes in School Grading Methods.

Prof. W. J. Cuddeger, Superintendent of City Schools makes the following announcement:

At our last teachers' meeting we decided that it would be better for various reasons to indicate the grades made by the pupils in school in letters instead of figures. The following letters with their limiting values are given below:

A 95 to 100.
A- 90 to 94.
B 85 to 89.
B- 80 to 84.
C 75 to 79.
C- 70 to 74.
D 60 to 69.
D- 50 to 59.
F 0 to 29.

As the passing mark in the school is 75, you will see that an average of "C" is required for passing. Pupils may make some "D's" and if there are sufficient "A's" and "B's" to raise the average to "C", yet pass. In general, parents can tell at a glance that if their children get "A" they are doing excellent work, "B" good work, "C" passing work, and "D" conditional work, below that failing. I suggest that parents be not satisfied with a "C" grade on the report of a child.

Honor Roll

The teachers were unanimous in their belief that the Honor Roll should be continued, but continued on an absolute basis without any exception that the child meet the four following conditions, so, parents, please observe carefully these four requirements and if your child has not made the four, do not embarrass the teacher or myself by asking for special privileges:

1. Deportment A or A- (at least 90%.)
2. Examination made in monthly test A or A- (at least 90%.)
3. Must not have been tardy during the entire month.
4. Must have been in school the entire month.

The last condition is the one that has been giving us considerable trouble, because occasionally a child is unavoidably detained at home that meets all the other requirements. The parents then wonder why the child could not be put on the Honor Roll and especially if the child's absence is caused by sickness. However, when one child is excused on the account of sickness, for four hours for instance, some other parents wonder why their child who has been sick six hours is not given the same opportunity, and if that is the case, the next step is why the child is kept off the Honor Roll who has been sick one day, two days, etc.

There are persons who watch for the Honor Roll every month more closely, perhaps, than any other news in the paper, and for it to be truly an Honor Roll it must be an honor that is not easily acquired else it loses its distinction. We want to make the requirements difficult. Our chief worry is to make the requirements absolutely just, putting it on exactly the same basis to every child. No doubt there will be scores of children who have made the Honor Roll requirements in one or more points, but yet, not in the entire four and there may be pupils left off the Honor Roll who are better students than some whose names are found on it. However that is no argument against the justice of the standards for Honor Roll mention.

BELGIANS IN NEED OF MANY GARMENTS FOR THE WINTER

Settlement Club Hopes to Be Able to Gather Hundreds of Garments in Maysville and Mason County For the Suffering Belgians.

The members of the Maysville Settlement Club which has undertaken the collection in Maysville and Mason county of garments for the Belgian sufferers are very much encouraged at the way the people of this section have expressed themselves upon the announcement that the Settlement Club would act as agents for the suffering Belgians in this community.

The young ladies are planning an extensive campaign touching every corner of the city of Maysville. This campaign will probably be made Wednesday but definite announcement will be made in plenty of time. They are now asking that all of the good people of Maysville and Mason county ransack their premises to find any old discarded clothing that may be of service to the sufferers in the country so desolated by the iron fist of Germany.

The Lake Division of the American Red Cross is asked to raise about 400 tons of clothing to be shipped to Belgium before the winter is upon us and Maysville and Mason county wants to do its full part toward raising this large contribution. The young ladies of the Settlement Club have taken the entire load from the shoulders of the Mason County Chapter of the American Red Cross which now has many duties developing upon it and they expect to do the job thoroughly.

They urge that every one in Maysville begin right now to select out what clothing they can donate to the Belgians and these articles will be called for in the near future full announcement being made in plenty of time for all.

STYLE WEEK OPENS IN FULL BLAST IN BUSINESS SECTION

Maysville's Annual Fall Style Show- ing Opens Today With the Stores and Shops Filled With the Latest in Their Various Lines.

Maysville's annual Style Week opened this morning with most all of the business houses in Maysville showing their new fall lines and with much interest shown in the success of the endeavor which was started just one year ago and which at that time proved a very successful venture for those who entered into it heartily and tried to get much out of it.

The visitors to Maysville this week will find that the Maysville merchants are among the most progressive in the state and by far the most progressive in this section of the state. In no city anything like the size of Maysville will be found the splendid show- ings of merchandise that were uncovered for the inspection of the public this morning. In no city anything like the size of Maysville will the shoppers find a better lot of business men or more attractive prices on all sorts of goods.

During Style Week the majority of the business men are offering special bargains in their various lines. This is something unusual for the opening of the season but the business men of Maysville can always be counted on doing the unusual thing and for this reason Maysville's trade area is yearly growing out until now our business interests attract people not only from our own county and from the adjoining counties but people have learned of Maysville's great business houses and they are coming to Maysville from a distance to do their shopping.

During Style Week it is planned to have Market and Second streets a great white way and by the kindness of the Maysville Gas Company large search lights will be erected to throw light on these streets in addition to the usual street lights and the light from the shop windows. During the first three nights of the week, however, there will be no lights in the business district as these nights will be observed as "Lightless Nights." No business men in the country have been more loyal to the government in all of its conservation program than the business men of Maysville and they will lend their hearty co-operation this week during the "lightless nights." On the last three nights of the week, however, the lights will be burning brightly and it is expected the business district will be well filled with people.

CONFEDERATE VETERAN FALLS UNDER TRAIN

Aged Virginian on Way to Confederate Reunion Misses Step As He Jumps Upon Train at Local Station and Has Narrow Escape.

Mr. James Hillburn, of East Virginia, had a very narrow escape from death or serious injury yesterday morning at the local C. & O. station when West bound C. & O. train Number 5 started to pull out of this station.

Mr. Hillburn was one of a large party of Virginia veterans on their way to Tulsa, Okla., where this week the annual reunion of the Confederate veterans will be held. He with a number of his friends alighted from the train at the local depot and talked with those who were standing there. When the train pulled out Mr. Hillburn stood talking just a little too long and when he started to catch the train it was moving entirely too fast for one who had fought in the Civil war. The old man caught hold of the rod at the steps but his feet slipped and he swung in between two Pullman coaches. He held on however until a section man who was standing near by rushed to him and pulled him out from between the cars holding him up to keep him from dragging.

The train was stopped and the old gentleman put aboard. In swinging between the coaches his face was somewhat scratched but except for that he was not injured.

The Mason County Community Chorus held another very interesting practice Sunday afternoon at Neptune Hall. This musical organization is growing and much interest is being shown.

One of the most attractive war maps in the city may be seen in the window of the Clooney Jewelry Store. The map is drawn on glass and marks from day to day the advance of the allied forces.

Because the United States Government has taken over one of the largest safety razor factories in the country local dealers are unloading their inability to secure blades for one of the best known safety razors.
